THE LAST WORD

Magazine Hunger

THE satisfaction of magazine hunger was vividly described in a recent news letter by Miss Dorothy G. Gates, missionary in remote Ipin, West China. Since 1941 no American magazines had been coming through to West China. It so happened that China Mission Secretary J. E. Moncrief visited West China during the summer. He brought with him copies of the April and May issues of MISSIONS. They were passed around and shared with the eight Baptist missionaries at the Ipin station. "When my turn came," wrote Miss Gates, "I read almost every word from cover to cover, including the advertisements, in the one evening when it was my turn to have the two issues."
